Alectra Inc. appoints Nadira Singh as Executive Vice President, Chief Financial Officer

Mississauga, ON – Brian Bentz, President and CEO of Alectra Inc., announced today that Nadira Singh has been appointed Executive Vice President, Chief Financial Officer Alectra Inc., effective November 2, 2026.

Nadira is an accomplished finance professional and industry leader known for project planning and process transformation, with significant time spent in the power and utilities sector. With her background in financial functions, corporate governance, and organizational transformation, Nadira brings a wealth of experience to her role at Alectra, most recently as the Canadian Chief Financial Officer at Norton Rose Fulbright.

In a previous role, Nadira served as Chief Financial Officer of Hudson's Bay Company, where she led the financial and supply chain functions. Nadira is also a former Vice President, Finance at Ontario Power Generation (OPG) where she led the business planning and reporting functions, playing a pivotal role in the financial management of the largest nuclear refurbishment project in North America.

As a member of the Executive Committee, Nadira will work closely with leaders across the organization to support Alectra's long-term business objectives, strengthen financial discipline and advance priorities that enable continued growth, operational excellence and value for the communities we serve. She will provide strategic leadership for Alectra's finance function, including financial reporting, treasury, business planning, capital management, corporate tax, financial modelling and stakeholder relations.

Nadira is a CPA, CA and has also served as Chair of Alectra's Audit & Finance Committee and as a member of the Board. She holds a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from the University of Toronto (Scarborough).
